A private hospital was in need of a festive gift for their staff members to show their appreciation during the holiday season. Tired of sending gift cards and panettone like they had every other year, the hospital opted for something a little more personal and cheerful to communicate their gratitude. They went all-out with our advent calendar-style Jingle Bells & Whistles kit which features multi-color string lights and plays a Deck The Halls tune when opened. The reaction on the nurses' and doctors' faces when they opened their boxes was a gift in itself. They all hung their customized ornaments on the holiday tree in the break room and snacked on their new sweet treats while sipping a warm beverage from their ceramic mug.
